COMPANY/BRAND

The new standards in the bathroom industry

01

A brand-new brand, free from historical baggage

AVAPAX is a dynamic and emerging bathroom hardware brand in the Polish market. We combine international experience with localized business models, free from the constraints of traditional structures, and truly focus on the actual needs of our customers.

Integrated manufacturer, from concept to finished product

From creative conception, design and development, production and manufacturing to sales execution, the entire process is completed by the same company. This means: comprehensive quality control, flexible innovation capabilities, and the fastest channel from idea to launch. Our AVAPAX factory produces over 10,000 faucets every day, ensuring a stable and sufficient supply.
