Manufacture

Stepping into the new 4.0 era

From 2020 to 2022, Haiba invested USD 7 million to upgrade its hardware facilities to meet the needs of international production standards. With lean production management, the production scrap rate was reduced by 50%.

Deeply rooted in the sanitary ware sector, Haiba Sanitary Ware is leveraging digital transformation to empower production upgrades, officially launching the factory MES system to inject intelligent power into the entire workshop production, including casting, polishing, machining, and assembly.

The system connects the entire production process: work dispatching and reporting are precise and efficient, enabling real-time flow of production tasks; SOP standard operation guidance is published online to ensure standardized and unified operations across all procedures; the quality inspection module monitors product quality throughout, preventing defects from the source; equipment networking collects real-time operational data to ensure stable equipment operation; large-screen dashboards intuitively display core indicators such as production progress, capacity, and quality, allowing management decisions to be more timely and scientific.

The launch of the MES system marks Haiba Sanitary Ware's entry into a new stage of intelligent production, using technology to drive quality improvement and efficiency enhancement, laying a solid foundation for creating high-quality sanitary ware products.

The image features two sleek, modern kitchen faucets standing side-by-side on a dark, reflective surface. The faucet on the left is a matte black, while the one on the right is a polished rose gold. Both have a tall, cylindrical body and a horizontal spout. The background is a dark, minimalist setting with soft lighting that highlights the faucets' forms and creates subtle reflections on the surface below them.
